GitHub Profiles

- GitHub is a development platform inspired by the way you work. From open source to business, you can host and review code, manage projects, and build software alongside 50 million developers
- GitHub brings teams together to work through problems, move ideas forward, and learn from each other along the way.
- GitHub is home to the world's largest community of developers and their projects
- GitHub is Collaborative Version Control Software
- Started in 2008, owned by Microsoft
- Written in Ruby, ECMAScript, Go, and C

Built for developers

GitHub is a development platform inspired by the way you work. From open source to business, you can host and review code, manage projects, and build software alongside 50 million developers.

Benefits of using GitHub

- It makes it easy to contribute to your open source projects
- Documentation
- Showcase your work
- Markdown
- GitHub is a repository
- Track changes in your code across versions
- Integration options

Contents of a GitHub Profile

- Username
- Current employer
- Location
- Email address
- Websites they have chosen to display – where you may be able to find out more about the candidate.
- No. of followers – 2-10 followers is good, 11-25 is great, 26-75 is exceptional (and probably means that person is very respected within the industry), and anyone with 75+ followers is super hot, and will be nigh on impossible to recruit!
- Contributions that person has made to the site – under this section you are likely to see keywords pertaining to the coding languages the person usually writes in, for example the keyword rails will be visible if that person has added content around Ruby on Rails.
- Repositories – these are the open-source development projects the person has chosen to host on GitHub and projects they've copied ("forked").

Benefits of LinkedIn Profiles to Students

- Getting Job Email Alerts
- Connecting with Professionals
- Conducting Company Research
- Getting Recommendations
- Letting Companies Find You
- Connecting with Other Students
- Landing International Jobs

Important Point!

Empty profiles with just connections are of no use.

Use the platforms to showcase your work to the world!
